Welcome to the Wolsey Lodge Food Trail for lovers of good food.

Chateau La Cour, Normandy, France

Your hosts - Lesley and David Craven

Good food and wine are an integral part of life in France and one of the main reasons that Lesley and David chose to live there 11 years ago. They continue this tradition at Chateau La Cour with elegant hosted dinners featuring the best that Normandy has to offer.

Lesley is a talented chef, who has never lost her enthusiasm for improving and refining the dishes she prepares and presents. She insists on the finest and freshest produce from the local markets and artisan producers – fresh fish from Ouistreham, locally farmed meat and poultry – unctuous ‘au lait cru’ Normandy chesses.

David is responsible for the potager that delivers lovely seasonal vegetables, salads and fruit for the dining table. In season he also collects wild mushrooms from the local woods. Their own flock of hens deliver free range eggs for delicious crème brûlées and the breakfast table.

Dinner is served in the panelled dining room and in the winter months, in front of blazing log fires. Special Gourmet Weekends are also available.

“Absolutely the best food we’ve tasted” S.A. Hampshire August 2008

“This is visit number 6 and we haven’t had a repeated menu” M.L. Monmouthshire May 2008

“Once again a wonderful stay, incredible food and good company” B.C. London January 2008

Lesley and David are offering Wolsey Lodge guests a 20% discount on a stay of 3 nights or more during June, July and August. To be sure of receiving this special offer please mention Wolsey Lodges when making your reservation.
