

Wolsey Lodges Garden Trail

The Old Rectory, Diptford, Totnes, Devon

The Old Rectory has a three acre garden full of spring bulbs, summer perennials and lovely shrubs and trees. It is situated on a high ridge overlooking Dartmoor and the garden boasts two ponds full of frogs, newts and toads. There are buzzards, woodpeckers, nuthatches and a wealth of other birds in the garden. Your Hosts, Jill and John Hitchins, make sure that there is all round colour in the garden - and there are plenty of quiet places where guests can sit. Locally there are many gardens to visit in both Devon and Cornwall and as a keen gardener and garden visitor, Jill knows all the secret gardens of Devon.
