Tubbs Mill House

Situated in a deep, sunny valley Tubbs Mill House is a classic, wisteria covered Georgian home which has been lovingly restored to its former glory to become a sheer haven of peace and tranquility and a wonderful place to unwind.

Where the garden borders the River Luney a deck has been built with a swing seat from which you can watch the local wildlife and the world in general pass by. Whilst you may be tempted to linger the rest of the garden delivers similar treats with many unusual plants, flowers and trees.

The house is beautifully decorated and furnished with a mix of antique, classic and modern furniture and a wonderful collection of old prints and pictures. The spacious bedrooms, either en suite or with private bathrooms, are furnished with fine Egyptian linen, soft towels and a wonderful selection of Cornish organic toiletries in the bathrooms. Denise and Vic take care to use mostly organic, local produce to provide their guests with the finest breakfasts which set them up in readiness for a day exploring the local sights.

Your Hosts

Denise and Vic are lively and outgoing and are both keen gardeners and walkers with a love of history. Vic is a builder by profession and also the cook in the family whilst Denise, a trained horticulturist is the 'kitchen porter'. They love having guests to stay in their home and nothing is too much trouble to make your stay here memorable.

The Location

There is a great deal here for everyone. Close to the South West Coastal Path makes it a walkers and bird watchers paradise and an abundance of fine houses and gardens at Trewithen House, Llanhydrock House, The Lost Gardens of Heligan and The Eden Project. St Ives and Padstow are nearby as is the wonderful outdoor theatre, The Minnack.
