

WOLSEY LODGES

Colledges House

A wonderful welcome awaits in this beautiful Grade II listed, large thatched Northamptonshire stone cottage, with converted barn, conservatory and secluded garden.

There's something special at every turn. Winter evenings are spent in front of a roaring open log fire in the stunning drawing room. For summer serenity, enjoy the cottage sitting room with its Bechstein piano, or wander into the conservatory to sit and read, away from it all.

Bedrooms in both the main house and cottage are uniquely and individually decorated - a Jacobean trunk in the single, Gothic headboards in the twin - a beautiful bureau in the bathroom. Beds are hugely comfortable and bathrooms include both bath and shower.

The beautiful garden creates surprises in formal and informally designed 'rooms', with harmony and colour contrasts in the inspired planting. Sit on the terrace and watch koi carp swimming in the pond - or relax, listening to the waterfall.

Liz is a warm and gregarious hostess and attended the Cordon Bleu. Her superb meals are legendary with a dinner party atmosphere, mixing great food, company and conversation. By prior arrangement, friends or clients may also be invited.
