

WOLSEY LODGES

Hanover House

The genteel spa town of Cheltenham provides an elegant backdrop to Hanover House, a lovingly restored Victorian Italianate townhouse. Nestled below the imposing Cotswold escarpment in a secluded yet central location, you'll be made to feel most welcome from the moment you arrive and sit down to tea and home baked scones.

Hanover House is filled with classic features of its period overlaid with relaxed and very comfortable décor and furnishings. Fresh flowers and paintings adorn the house together with pictures of Elgar and his wife Alice, who once lived here. In the colder months, a fire is lit in the drawing room, whilst the tranquil garden beckons visitors on warmer days to explore its walled boundaries which extend down to the River Chelt and the Chelt walk beyond.

Filled with classical music and books which reflect the interests of Veronica and her husband James, Hanover House offers guests a luxurious stay in a charming house with a fascinating history.

Your Hosts

Veronica, (and Sophie the Golden Retriever) make guests feel instantly at ease. Everything you will need for an enjoyable and memorable stay has been provided. Formerly a nurse, Veronica is a very experienced hostess with a love of classical music, opera, the theatre and her large family. James was in the Army and is passionate about history and his collection of books which are found throughout the house.

The Location

Cheltenham has everything –the unique shops in Montpellier, museums, concert venues, theatres and parks to restaurants offering cuisine from around the world – and it's all just a short stroll away from Hanover House. Cheltenham Ladies' College is almost adjacent and a number of guests are Ladies' College parents visiting or depositing their offspring! The famous Cheltenham racecourse is within walking distance whilst a short drive takes you to the heart of the Cotswolds.
