WOLSEY LODGES

Winstone Glebe

Warm hospitality, excellent cooking and great peace is assured in this small Georgian Rectory, set in a Domesday listed village. Surrounded by ten acres of quiet garden and paddocks, with panoramic views over the Cotswold Hills, Winstone Glebe is the perfect rural retreat.

Tea awaits guests in the drawing room in front of a blazing log fire or, on fine days, in the garden. Comfortable, traditionally furnished guest rooms have classic furniture and floral fabrics, giving them a relaxed and romantic atmosphere. All rooms have large comfortable beds.

The garden, which includes a tennis court, was originally laid out by Dame Sylvia Crowe in the l950s. Susanna has softened these rather austere bones with masses of spring bulbs and herbaceous planting, providing year round colour, from carpets of aconites in January, to Sedum - Autumn Joy - which retains its architectural beauty through to December.

Your Hosts

Dinner is superbly prepared by Susanna, a professional cook who once ran the Cordon Bleu Restaurant. Shaun has lived in the Cotswolds all his life and is very familiar with the area.

The Location

Gardens abound in this beautiful region including Miserden, Rodmarton, Owlpen, Hidcote and Kiftsgate, and famous arboreta at Westonbirt and Batsford. Also there are lovely towns and villages such as Bibury, The Slaughters, Cirencester, Tetbury, Painswick, Stow and Chipping Campden, rich in antique shops, rural crafts and local history. Oxford, Bath and Stratford-upon-Avon are within easy reach. Being within an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty there are numerous well signposted walks for the more energetic.

Finding Us

15 minutes from the M5 junction 11a; 30 minutes from M4 junction 15. Follow signs to Cirencester in both cases. Winstone is 6 miles north nest of Cirencester off the A417. Once in the village follow signs to church. The Glebe is just short of the church on the left on a bend by a public footpath sign.
