

WOLSEY LODGES

Higher Huxley Hall

A hidden place, a joy to find. Descend from the hamlet of Huxley and the Hall emerges across the river valley with a sandstone, cobbled drive lined with a pleached hornbeam hedge, below which lies a carpet of snowdrops, primroses and cowslips in spring.

Parts of this historical 13th century manor house compliment beautiful Elizabethan additions which now dominate, such as the low beams and an exquisite oak staircase leading up to guest 'bedchambers'. En suite rooms, with views out to three castles or towards the purple Welsh Mountains, have elaborate bedheads to complement fine period furniture. Acknowledgement of more contemporary requirements is made with television, telephones and modem sockets and wireless internet.

Extensive gardens boast red breasted geese atop a calm natural pond, a large aviary of exotic Chinese golden pheasants and secluded seats from which to enjoy magnificent views. Over a summer weekend a minimum of two nights preferred.

Your Hosts

Pauline has worked in Hong Kong, Gibraltar and England as a physiotherapist and is a truly accomplished cook. Jeremy was in agriculture but now runs the estate. They both enjoy their beautiful, relaxing home and hope their guests will too.

The Location

Huxley is on the Shropshire Union Canal bridle path. A one and half hour walk will take you into the Roman city of Chester with its Castle Military museum, Zoological Gardens and Antique Trail. Beeston Castle, Anderton Boat lift, Oulton Park motor racing circuit and Jodrell Bank and Arboretum are just a handful of the area's attractions.

Finding Us

M6. J16 Nantwich on the A500. Head for Chester on A51. After Tilstone Fearnall turn left at traffic lights onto the A49 towards Whitchurch. After approx. ¼ mile take first right to Huxley. Take the 2nd left (3 miles) past the Farmers Arms pub to the T-junction, then turn left towards Tattenhall and immediately right down named tarmac drive.
